WHAT ARE THE PARAPLEGIC GAMES?

Firstly, it should be explained, a Paraplegic is a person who has suffered a paralysis of the lower limbs, and part of the trunk due to injury of the spinal column.

The Paraplegic, having undergone intensive rehabilitation training, has earned the right to participate in a great number of activities. In this regard, sports have become the number one interest. The many wheelchair sports clubs across Canada need a co-ordinated program of inter-provincial and international competition.

The Paraplegic Games (Pan-Am 1967) is the first international event ever held in conjunction with the Pan-Am Games, and has now been officially recognized by Pan-American Society Organization.

Inspiration for the games in Winnipeg, came from the pattern set by the Stoke-Mandeville (England) Games, which, since 1952, has been the scene of regular International Wheelchair Sports. From these games came the "Paralympics", -held following the regular Olympics. In 1964-364 Paraplegics took part in the Paralympics - Tokyo. Wheelchair sports now follow the British Commonwealth Games, and various European Sports Events. Winnipeg now has a golden opportunity to continue this international movement by initiating and hosting Paraplegic Games conjointly with the Pan-American Games.

With the benefit of these past experiences from which to draw, and the standardized rules and regulations which have been established, a venturesome group of Winnipeg Paraplegics, having obtained the blessing and assistance of the Pan-Am Games (1967) Committee, and the Canadian Paraplegic Association, have set the wheels in motion for the hosting of the Paraplegic Games (Pan-Am 1967).

Our symbol the torch represents sports and athletic endeavour. The circle, encompassing a Paraplegic Athlete, - stressing the well developed upper part of his, or her, torso, - signifies our affinity to Pan-American Games in 1967.

This, then, is "What" it is all about. Now we would like to tell you something of the "Why" - "How" and "When", of this enterprising venture.
